

pepsi ibrahim:

Pepsi Man is the official Pepsi mascot from the Japan created sometime in the mid-1990s. Pepsi Man wore each one representing the current Pepsi can style of Twelve commercials were created featuring the character. His role in advertisements is to appear with Pepsi for people or people soft drinks.

Pepsi Man:

It is a carbonated soft drink manufactured by PepsiCo. Originally developed in 1893 by Caleb Bradham and known as Brad's Drink, it was renamed Pepsi-Cola in 1898, then shortened to Pepsi in 1961.

Pepsi Date:

In 1923, PepsiCo went into bankruptcy - in large part due to losses incurred by speculating on highly volatile sugar. As a result of World War I, assets were sold and Roy C. Megalogenes of Pepsi. Efforts to find funding to revive and Pepsi's assets were soon bought by Charles Guth.

Articles:

In the United States, Pepsi is made with carbonated water, high fructose corn syrup, caramel color, sugar, phosphoric acid. That Coca-Cola refused to give him caffeine, citric acid, and natural flavors. A 355ml (12oz) can of Pepsi has 41g of carbohydrates (all from sugars), additional drink discounts. Goeth then asked Luft's chemists to reformulate the formula for Pepsi-Cola. On three occasions between 1922 and 1933, The Coca-Cola Company was offered the opportunity to buy Pepsi-Cola, but it declined each occasion.

PepsiCo

NAHHAL PEPSI

The revival of the world.
Inspired by moments of optimism and happiness.
Creating value and making a difference.

30 mg sodium, 10g fat, 56 g protein, 38 mg caffeine and 458 calories. Pepsi has 10 more calories and 2 more of sugar and carbs than Coca-Cola.

PepsiCo

NAHHAL PEPSI

A carbonated soft drink made by Pepsi Co. Originally created and developed in 1893 by Caleb Bradham and introduced as Brad's Drink, it was renamed Pepsi-Cola in 1898, then shortened to Pepsi in 1961.

In the United States, Pepsi is made with carbonated water, high fructose corn syrup, caramel color, sugar, phosphoric acid, citric acid, and natural flavors.

059-294-666